The WR-500 and WR-90 provide fast and accurate coin counting, bagging and wrapping.

Coin wrappers have become essential equipment for CIT/armoured carrier companies, mints and other industries that have a requirement to handle large volumes of coin. The Glory WR series has met this need, with enhanced speed and performance. The WR-500 and WR-90 count and wrap coins more smoothly and efficiently than conventional wrappers.

Continuous operation

With newly designed coin transportation and stacking units, the WR-500 and WR-90 have realised a smoother performance, and have drastically improved continuous operation.

Fully-opened upper and front doors

Improved operability

Utilising a built-on LCD control panel, screen visibility and operability have been improved dramatically. The processing mode and data contents may be checked quickly and easily. Furthermore, an easy-to-understand illustrated operation guide provides accurate and applicable support.

Built-on LCD control panel

Illustrated operation guidance display

Multi-language display

Different languages may be selected on the LCD panel, such as English, German, French, Spanish (default is English).

Advanced detection capability against forged coins and foreign materials*

Detection of forged coins and foreign materials has been improved. A non-designated denomination or foreign material coins are automatically rejected to a dedicated box. This enables the WR to maintain a speedy and accurate counting and wrapping operation.

* Available with optional recognition sensors. Euro models are equipped with the recognition sensors as standard.
